Benefits for Patients

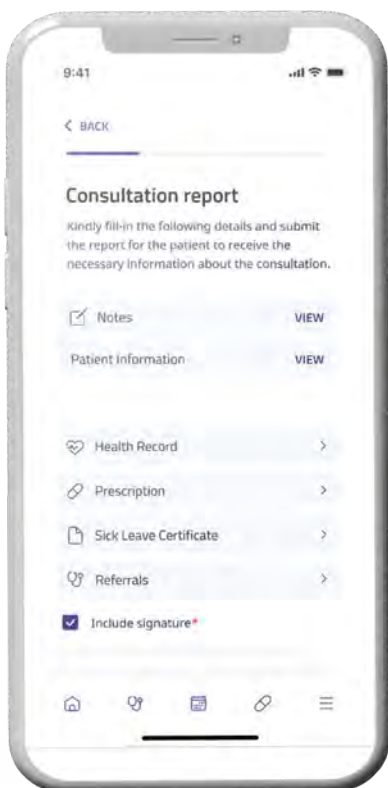

Patients have been realising the following benefits of telemedicine in recent years:

- Adds convenience and comfort to their lifestyles
- Greater portability - patients can share their medical history with any practitioner that they interact with
- Improved level of care - with better access to data and patients' medical profile, doctors will be able to provide a level of care with better diagnosis and prognosis for their patients
- Insights into their own health - having greater control over their medical records
- Greater accessibility to both doctors and patients at the touch of a button (24/7 access to healthcare)
- Adapting to the reality of the digital health revolution, especially in the wake of COVID-19.

Easier. Simpler. Faster.
